The map shows various creeks and rivers in Wyoming, including the North Platte River, the Big Horn River, and the Yellowstone River. The creeks and rivers are depicted with their respective names and locations. The map also indicates the storage and surface area of various reservoirs, such as the Albany Reservoir, the South Platte Reservoir, and the Tongue River Reservoir. The map is credited to the Wyoming Geological Survey (WGS) and the U.S. Geological Survey (USGS).